

CONTESTANT CONSENT AND RELEASE

By submitting an entry in the ACLU Rights Project for Teens, I am giving permission to the ACLU of Colorado to reproduce and publicly display and distribute copies of my entry in the contest (my "Work"), as well as my name and likeness.

This permission is for use of my Work anywhere in the world and on the Internet, is nonexclusive, and is for an unlimited period of time. I understand and agree that I will not be compensated for consenting to this use of my Work or my name and likeness. I have not given any person or entity the exclusive right to use my name, likeness, or my Work, so I am free to sign this release. There is no other agreement, either oral or written, existing between the ACLU and me. Furthermore, to the extent my entry into the ACLU RPT identifies or portrays the name, photograph or likeness of any living person, I hereby represent that I have obtained the express written consent to do so from each such living person, and such consent is attached to my work.

I have read and understand the above permission and I understand that my agreement to this Contestant Consent and Release is a condition to entering the ACLU RPT, and the time required to evaluate my entry into the contest and my chance to win the prizes being awarded in the contest shall be adequate consideration to support this Contestant Consent and Release. If I am not 18 years or older, my parent or guardian has also signed below.
