

Statement of Resolution In Opposition to An Amendment to the Colorado Constitution Banning Same-Sex Marriage

WHEREAS, Colorado's Constitution and Bill of Rights enshrines the bedrock rights of a free people;
and

WHEREAS, the Constitution should be immune from amendments that take away rights from citizens;
and

WHEREAS, a Constitutional amendment has been proposed that would ban same-sex marriage; and

WHEREAS, Colorado state law already bans same-sex marriage making this amendment redundant and unnecessary;

WHEREAS, passage of a Constitutional amendment banning same-sex marriage enshrines discrimination against committed same-sex couples in our Constitution;

Now, Therefore Be It RESOLVED that ACLU of Colorado does hereby declare its full opposition to the Constitutional ban on same-sex marriage and urges the public to vote No on this proposed amendment at the General Election on November 7, 2006.
