During the ACLU of Colorado's fiscal year 2024, the organization worked to enhance biometric data privacy laws, uphold reproductive rights in Colorado, defended a Native American artist from censorship, helped to strengthen renter's rights, and ensured equitable education for children across the state.

In addition to that work, the 2024 election cycle was a landmark year for our We Are the Vote campaign, as we made unprecedented strides in mobilizing voters, protecting our personal freedoms, and pushing back against attacks on criminal legal reforms.

You can read detailed articles about the work done in fiscal year 2024 in our Spring/Summer and Fall/Winter Impact Reports on our website.
