EVERYONE HAS CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS

It is essential to know and understand your rights. All people living in the United States, regardless of status, have certain U.S. Constitutional rights. If you are undocumented and Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) agents contact you, know that you have the following rights:

1. Under the 14th Amendment, you are guaranteed equal protections under the law and cannot be discriminated against on account of nationality/country of origin, appearance, language, gender, race, age, disability, or creed/religion.
2. Under the 5th Amendment, you have the right to remain silent. You do not have to answer questions from an ICE agent.
   If you choose to remain silent, say so out loud.
   Say, “I am going to remain silent.”
3. Under the 4th Amendment, you have the right to know the charges that are being held against you and the reason why you are being detained.
   Ask; “Have I done anything wrong?” The ICE agent or police officer is obligated to tell you what charges are being held against you.
4. Under the 4th Amendment, you are protected from random and arbitrary stops and searches.
5. You have the right not to consent to a search of your property without an arrest warrant. You have the right to privacy of your person, places, and things. Not giving consent to a search is your right and not considered as probable cause.
6. You have the right to be represented by a lawyer, but the court will not give you a free lawyer. For a civil case, you must get a private lawyer. Even if you do not have a lawyer, you may tell the immigration officer that you want to speak to one.
7. You have the right to a translator. You can also request paperwork to be given to you in a language you understand.
ICE and Police: Know the Difference

ICE agents are not the police but often look or act like police.

ICE
- Comply with federal immigration law
- They only have the power to enforce immigration laws
- Funded by the Federal Government
- ICE shouldn’t be patrolling our community. When ICE is out in our community, they are looking for specific people who have final deportation orders.
- Often don’t wear a uniform

POLICE
- They comply with local law
- They do not have the power to enforce immigration laws
- Funded by state taxes
- Police patrols our communities. They can be found on public streets, state highways, schools, the courts, and probation offices
- They are in uniform while on duty (with some exceptions.)
- They are 911 responders

If ICE Stops You In Public

2. Always remember your right to remain silent.
3. You do not have to answer any questions.
   a. If ICE asks, “Is your name _____,” you can ask, “Have I done anything wrong?” “Am I free to go?” Remember you have the right to remain silent.
4. You have the right to speak to a lawyer. If you are detained or taken into custody, you have the right to immediately contact your lawyer.
5. Show any valid immigration documentation you have with you.
6. Do not sign anything before talking to your lawyer.

Remember:
- ICE agents may wear normal clothing or present themselves as police.
- When ICE stops you, they will call you by your name or ask you for your name.
Before answering questions, ask:

1. Have I done something wrong?
2. Am I free to leave?

If Yes

Say:
- “Well, have a nice day”
- “Ok, have a good day”

Do: Walk slowly

If No

Say:
- “I want to use my right to remain silent”
- “I want to speak to my lawyer”

Do: Contact a lawyer immediately

If they start to search you:

1. Say: “I do not consent to a search.”
2. Consider your right to remain silent and do not answer questions about your immigration status or country of origin.
3. If it is safe to do so, you can record the incident on a mobile device.
   a. Get the Mobile Justice Colorado App (page 25)

IF ICE PULLS YOU OVER

If ICE or police signal you to stop your car, you should do so. Immigration officials and police can ask for your name, driver’s license, registration and insurance. You should show these documents if you have them.

Remember:
- ICE agents may wear normal clothing or present themselves as police.
- When ICE stops you, they will call you by your name or ask you for your name.
IF ICE PULLS YOU OVER (CONTINUED)

1. Stay calm. Do not run.
2. Always remember your right to remain silent.
3. You do not have to answer any questions.
4. You can refuse consent to search your car. If an agent wants to search your car, you have the right to give or refuse permission, but you should not interfere with their actions.
5. You have the right to speak to a lawyer. If you are detained or taken into custody, you have the right to immediately contact your lawyer.
6. Show any valid immigration document you have with you.
7. Show a valid driver’s license, current insurance and registration.
8. Do not sign anything before talking to your lawyer.

Are immigration officials allowed to pull people over?

The federal government claims the power to conduct certain kinds of warrantless stops within 100 miles of the U.S. border. Immigration officials need a warrant signed by a judge to stop or pull over someone if they are beyond 100 miles from the border. Whenever an ICE agent pulls you over in Colorado, they need a warrant signed by a judge.
NEW CBP POLICY RESTRICTING SUSPICIONLESS ID CHECKS FOR DOMESTIC FLIGHTS

CBP officers will ensure their words and actions communicate that passenger cooperation is voluntary.

CBP officers cannot block a passenger’s ability to get off the plane.

CBP officers will make clear if asked that a passenger who chooses not to participate will not be punished.

CBP officers will ask airline personnel to communicate over the plane’s speaker that passenger cooperation is voluntary.
IF ICE COMES TO YOUR PLACE OF WORK

ICE agents may enter public places such as a restaurant or store. However, they cannot enter private areas of a workplace without the consent of your supervisor or an arrest warrant signed by a judge.

1. Stay calm. Do not run.
2. Ask the ICE agents if you are free to leave or return to work. If they say yes, inform the ICE agents that you will not speak with them and continue to work or go quietly.
3. You have the right to remain silent and do not have to answer any questions.
4. If you have valid immigration documents, show them if an immigration agent requests them. Never lie about your immigration status or present false documents.
5. If officials order you to form a row with others according to your immigration status, you are entitled to stay where you are, or you can go to a place that does not include a row. You can tell ICE agents that you are invoking your right to remain silent. If you are forced to move, do not resist.
6. If agents ask to look through your belongings such as your cellphone or your work area, you have the right to say, “I do not consent to a search.” Do not resist if they try to look through your belongings without your consent.
7. If it is safe to do so, you can record the incident on a mobile device.

Remember:
1. Do not volunteer your name.
2. Do not answer questions about your country of origin or immigration status.
3. Do not give any false information or documentation to ICE.
IF ICE COMES TO YOUR DOOR

Do not open the door. You do not have to open the door or let the officers into your home unless they have a valid search warrant signed by a judge. It is safer to talk to ICE from inside of your home with them outside. If you let ICE agents enter, they will no longer need a warrant to search your home.

Ask: “Do you have a warrant signed by a judge?”

<tr>
<th>Reply</th>
<th>Say</th>

<tr>
<td>Yes</td>
<td>“Can you please, pass it under the door or show it to me through the window?”</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>No</td>
<td>“I do not consent to a search.”</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Plan with Coworkers

- Make sure your boss or supervisor know that they have the right to deny consent to a search if ICE does not have a warrant signed by a judge.
- Make sure all your coworkers know their rights if ICE arrives.
- Talk to your coworkers about what they should do if ICE arrives.
- Stay Together. ICE officials may try to divide people up into groups of citizens and non-citizens.
ICE WARRANT VS. ARREST WARRANT

An ICE warrant or administrative warrant is not the same as a search warrant because a judge does not necessarily sign an ICE warrant. If ICE presents an ICE warrant, which is not signed by a judge, they cannot legally enter your home unless you verbally agree to let them in. If a judge does not sign the warrant, you do not have to open the door or let them in.

ICE Warrant
- Signed by an ICE agent, not by a judge.
- It says “Authorized Immigration Officer” below the signature line.
- It does not give the right to a search under the 4th Amendment.

Arrest Warrant
- It says, “U.S. Judge” under the signature line.
- Gives legal permission for authorities to search your home.

If it is a valid warrant signed by a judge:

1. Check that you are the person they are looking for on the warrant.
2. If the warrant is valid, the person named in the warrant should leave the house to speak with the ICE agents. The other people in the home should stay inside. Why? Immigration ICE agents can arrest other family members if they are not citizens, even if their names do not appear on the arrest warrant.

IF ICE ENTERS YOUR HOME:

If they do not have a valid warrant:

- Remember that you have the right to remain silent. Make sure family members, especially children, know that they must keep quiet.
- Say: “I do not consent to a search”
- Even if the ICE agents ignore you and enter without permission, saying, “I do not consent” is essential. This may help you in court.
- If it is safe to do so, you can record the incident on a mobile device.

If they do have a valid warrant:

- Say: “I am going to use my right to remain silent.”
- Say: “I want to speak to my lawyer.”

WHAT ALLIES CAN DO DURING AN ICE RAID

- If you can do so safely, take photos of documents and video record raids and arrests.
- Obtain the names and phone numbers of any witnesses.
- Share information about the raid with your co-workers. If there is a union in your workplace, contact a union official.
- If ICE agents or police officers enter without a proper warrant, ask for their names and/or write down their badge numbers.
- To report a raid, contact the Colorado Rapid Response Network 1-844-864-8341.

What to do if you witness a raid:

Call the Colorado Rapid Response Network 1-844-864-8341 to report any immigration enforcement activity or someone who has been detained. The Rapid Response Network is a team of more than 100 volunteers trained to administer a telephone hotline 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Our team is ready to investigate reports to verify whether they are real and to document what occurs.
WHAT TO DO IF ICE DETAINS YOU:

Do not sign anything. You could be signing a voluntary deportation order. Many times, ICE agents say, “If you sign this, everything will be fine and you can return home.” Do not sign anything without talking to a lawyer first. You have the right to remain silent.

1. You have the right to refuse to sign.
   a. Say, “I want to talk to my lawyer before signing anything.”

2. You have the right to a lawyer.
   a. You will likely not be appointed a lawyer; you will have to find one and pay for it.

3. You have the right to make a phone call.
   a. You have the right to call a family member, a lawyer, or your country’s consulate.

4. You can ask for a bond hearing.
   a. At the bond hearing, an immigration judge decides to give you a bond or not, or to lower the amount of your current bond.
   b. You may not be eligible for a bond if you already have a deportation order, or if you have certain criminal convictions, or if the government thinks you are a threat.

5. Hotline for Detained Individuals: (303) 866-9308
   The Rocky Mountain Immigrant Advocacy Network (RMIAN) has a hotline that you or your family members can call if you become detained. You can only leave a voicemail and they check their voicemails every weekday. Know that if you are detained, and if you do not have a previous deportation order, you will automatically be called to attend a Know Your Rights Presentation by RMIAN. During that presentation, you will have the opportunity to speak to a lawyer for free.
Finding a detained person in Colorado

For the first 24 hours, the person is not in the system. Once they have been detained for 24 hours, you will need the person’s full name, date of birth, and country of origin. To find out where a person is being detained go to: https://locator.ice.gov/odls/#/index

WHAT CAN FAMILIES DO NOW?

Find an immigration lawyer

Have a legal consultation with a lawyer. Why? This will help you be aware of your rights, what you can do to avoid ICE and the immigration deportation process. This lawyer will be more familiar with your case.

- If you have a green card, find out if you can become a U.S. citizen.
- If you are here on a visa, find out if you can get a green card.
- If you do not have immigration status, find out if you may be eligible to get a visa or work permit.
- If you have a criminal arrest or conviction, find out how it might affect your case, or if there is a way to erase it from your record.

Find legal help:

- Immigration Advocates Network’s national directory of free or low-cost nonprofit immigration legal services providers.
  www.immigrationlawhelp.org
- American Immigration Lawyers Association is the largest network of private immigration attorneys. www.ailalawyer.com

Plan with your family

- Talk about the possibility of an ICE agent coming to your home or stopping you in public.
- Ensure that your children know they should keep quiet in case of an ICE raid.
- Talk to your family and children about not opening the door for an ICE agent.
- Make sure all information and emergency contacts are up to date at your children’s school(s) including who can and cannot pick up your children.
- Create a sheet of emergency numbers and contact information.
Choose a Family Member to Care for Your Children

Have conversations with family members now and decide who can take care of your children if you are detained. Why? If you are detained and your children are with family members the chance of them being picked up by child services is much lower.

What to do?

1. Choose a family member who has legal status.
2. Plan with the chosen family member to pick your children up from school or your home if you are detained.
3. Make sure the chosen family member is an emergency contact number with your child’s school.
4. Make sure both you and your children have the family member’s phone number memorized.
5. Have a lawyer’s contact number, in case you are detained, to discuss the possibility of making this family member a legal guardian.

Memorize Phone Numbers

Memorize both your lawyer’s phone number and the phone number of your emergency contact. Why? If ICE detains you, you will not be able to use your cellphone.

Build a Network

Why? In the case that you are detained, you will need to pay for an attorney and pay for bond.

Get to know the people in your community that you trust. Make sure the people you trust know your full name, country of origin and A-number. Why? In the event that you are detained, and they need to find you, they will need your full name and country of origin or your A-number.

A-number: A nine-digit number, which can be found on your immigration documents under USCIS# or A#. If you have never come into contact with immigration, you will not have one.

*We’ve provided an easy to fill out form at the end of this booklet.
If you have a valid work permit or green card, carry it with you at all times. If you do not have one, generally it is advisable to carry a municipal ID, state ID, or driver’s license if it was issued in the United States and contains no information at all about your immigration status or your country of origin.

- Do not carry any documentation about your country of origin.
- Do not carry any false identity documents or false immigration documents.

Create a Box!

Why? If you are detained, you will ask for a bond hearing with a judge. Providing the judge in your bond hearing with proof of identification, employment, tax payments, or work accomplishments will help prove that you are not dangerous and that you should be released on bond. Make sure that your emergency contact has access to these items.

Some items include:

- Driver’s license
- Passport/visas
- Your birth certificate
- Childrens’ birth certificates
- Marriage certificate
- Childrens’ report cards
- Tax forms
- Proof of career achievements
- Rental agreements
- Utility bills

Get Mobile Justice Colorado!

Mobile Justice Colorado is a smartphone app that empowers Coloradans to record police and hold them accountable for their actions. It has four main features:

1. Record: allows you to record your interactions with police officers in audio and video files that are automatically emailed to ACLU of Colorado, so they cannot be deleted or destroyed.
2. Witness: When selected, notifies you when a nearby Mobile Justice App user is recording an interaction so you can move towards that user and document the interaction as well.
3. Report: Gives you the option to provide a more detailed account of your interactions with police in an incident report, which will be transmitted directly to ACLU of Colorado.
4. Rights: Provides an overview of your rights and how to protect them when recording or interacting with law enforcement officers.

The app is free and available on the App Store and Google Play.

The Colorado Wage Act (C.R.S. 8-4-101 et seq.) requires Colorado employers to pay employees their earned wages in a timely manner. The Wage Act is commonly referred to as the Colorado Wage Law, the Colorado Wage Claim Act, or the Colorado Wage Protection Act. The law addresses deductions from wages, vacation, commissions, bonuses, final pay, pay periods and paydays, and pay statements.

The Division of Labor Standards and Statistics may conduct employer-wide direct investigations of potential violations of Colorado wage and hour law. If you would like to submit a tip, please email the Division at cdle_ls_direct_investigations@state.co.us. If you would like to file an individual claim for unpaid wages, you must fill out a Wage and Hour Complaint Form at www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdle/complaint-forms.
